THE RIMBEY SHOOTING

The Cause of McGregor's Dismissal Given by T. A. Iddings J. P.

To the editor of The Western Globe, Lacombe.

Permit me to reply, through the columns of The Globe, to an article in your last issue headed "The Rimbey Shooting." Public interest here has centered somewhat on this transaction and frequently inquiry has been made of me concerning it. The report in "The Globe" conflicts in almost every detail with that which I have given the people here and makes it appear as though I was a man with some very elastic mental faculties, or had very little regard for the truth. The case was not dismissed for the reason that "it was shown that McGregor acted in self defence." The case was dismissed because Justice Pines and I did not agree. I held that the accused should be remanded for trial and Mr. Pines held that the case should be dismissed on the ground that—to use his own statement—"there was nothing in the evidence that showed that he shot with intent to kill." Even a claim of self defence could not in any particular be substantiated. To those who are acquainted with the mode of procedure in such matters, it will appear rather strange that we should be so divided, a thirty-two caliber automatic, purported to have been found on the accused when arrested. Ordinarily it should have been put in evidence and marked as an exhibit and in this case would have to be sent to the clerk of the court. It could not be admitted in evidence owing to the fact that the police who made the arrest and supposedly took the gun from the accused were not in attendance at the hearing, hence the confounding.

Yours truthfully,
T. A. Iddings, J.P.

The New Theatre.

All theatrical men who have seen our new theatre pronounce it a fine building in every respect and constructed in such a way that it is well adapted for its purpose.

In conversation today with Frederic Clarke, one of the great actors who has won renown for himself on the stage of this continent, and who appeared last night in "The Manxman," that gentleman said: "You have the finest theatre I have played in for some time, and though handicapped somewhat last night on account of it not yet being completed, it is A. 1. in every particular. It excels anything in any town along the line, in fact it excels any opera house in Edmonton, and is one of which you have ample reason to feel proud. The stage is convenient and will be most adaptable for the very best productions procurable. It is spacious, warm, well ventilated and in every way all that could be desired."

Throughout, pains have been taken in all the different branches of its construction to make it substantial and of a lasting character. These plans have been followed from the very beginning and to mention the fact that G. G. Mobley superintended the work from the commencing point, gives the assurance that the work is well done. The building proper is 90 feet long by 40 feet wide with a stage of 22 feet square, and has a capacity of 600 persons. The ceiling is metallic finished, while the walls are all of hard white finishing. The front, when finished, will have a most inviting appearance, with the fine pressed brick work, cornicing, and large plate glass in each office. The steam heating system which has been installed by Morrison & Johnston has already been tested, and the electric lights, and are in good working order, and these things with good ventilation will contribute to the comfort of the theatregoers. The balcony has a large seating capacity and affords one of the best, if not the best, view of the stage, while on each side private boxes are constructed, which being elevated and being near the stage give a splendid view.

The outstanding and one of the most impressive features of the building is the facilities for escape in case of a possible fire. There are not only sufficient stage and side exits, but the four spacious doors at the entrance have solved the problem of any possible chance of a panic of any kind. The building is indeed a creditable one to the town, and it is to be hoped that all performances will be in keeping with it.

Fisheries Commission Meets.

The Dominion Fisheries Commission, composed of Professor Prince, chairman; Hon. T. H. McGuire, Dr. E. Staley, M. G. Prince, and Inspector E. W. Miller, is in town today and will hold a sitting in the Town Hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Commission is appointed by the Dominion Government to investigate the fisheries of the Provinces, to make inquiry into past and present conditions of local waters, to ascertain the best means to improve the fish supply and to recommend such matters as would improve the present fisheries regulations.

The commission will be pleased to receive any information from anyone this evening on this vital question.

Yesterday morning the commission drove out and inspected Gull Lake and in the afternoon visited Buffalo Lake.

It is advisable that all interested in the fishery question be present.

The Manxman.

A fairly good house greeted Frederic Clarke, in "The Manxman," at the Comet Theatre last night. "The Manxman" production contains three principal characters—a weak woman, her weaker and apparently very high minded rescuer, and an unsophisticated, big hearted young countryman. As usual in Hall Caine's works, a bunch of illegitimate youngsters were in evidence. Mildred Eddy, as Kate O'Connell, gave a fairly good representation of weak womanhood; Thomas Clark as Philip Christian was evidently what the writer of the play intended he should be, while Frederic Clarke, in the leading role, was exceptionally good. The balance of the cast was up to the average. The audience was interested throughout the entire play, and some very favorable comments were heard.

Mr. and Mrs. Bullock were given a pleasant surprise on Saturday evening, when a number of friends called on them at the Alexandra. After the evening was spent in games and refreshments, they all bid good-bye and a pleasant trip back to their old home to Mr. and Mrs. Bullock, who, after several years among us, leave a host of friends.

The big sale at the Glen Eyrie ranch, at J. W. Shirkey, conducted by our now famous auctioneer, O. F. Dameron, was all that could be expected, and the best sale ever conducted in this section of the country. A large crowd was in attendance and prices ranged high, several horses selling above $200 each, and some up to $60, sheep from $7.75 up, chickens from 75c up, and the whole sale totalling about eight thousand dollars. Jas. McPherson and J. C. Carrist attended to the clerks duties. Good goods were in good demand at good prices, and Dameron eclipsed all previous records in disposing of the goods.

James P. McPherson spent Friday afternoon and Saturday out at the camp, helping to move into the new store at that place. A good stock of winter clothing is now on the shelves, as well as a complete line of groceries.

Mr. J. Blah moved his family into the J. B. McPherson house here, lately vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Bullock, on Monday last. Mr. Blah is in charge of the Shirkey and Blah hay baler, and has considerable of work to do around Lacombe.

Mr. S. H. Welsh assisted by Blake Drader, Carl Wiese and others, are gathering up the AL steers around here, and getting ready for shipment.

Dameron Bros. drove in a bunch of sixty-three cattle on Tuesday last and are getting another shipment of a hundred or so ready for this week.

Died at her home near Rimbey, on Sunday evening, October 9th, at 9 o'clock, after an illness of several weeks, the wife of J. H. Williams.

Directors Will Meet.

A meeting of the Directors of the Lacombe Agricultural Society will be held in the Town Hall on Saturday, Oct. 15th, at the hour of three o'clock in the afternoon, for the dispatch of general business.

As the meeting will be a most important one, it is requested that all Directors attend.

The Passing of a King.

The passing of the Portuguese throne has been accomplished with an amazing lack of incident when one remembers other similar events that have agitated Europe. The accounts in the daily papers are scarcely so full of color as would have occurred in the case of a mine disaster or train wreck.

True, for some months the course of events has tended irrevocably in the direction of a republic and the end of one regime, and the beginning of the other, is perhaps not so dramatic as that account.

Geographically the kingdom of Portugal is an integral part of the Iberian peninsula; the only reason why it retained its independence, while the other mediæval states of that peninsula merged into the kingdom of Spain is to be found in its history. When Philip II of Spain annexed Portugal it was a century too late for it to coalesce with Spain. It had produced Vasco da Gama and Alfonso de Albuquerque and its language had been developed from a romantic dialect into a literary language of Camoens and Sa de Miranda.

Conscious of its national history it broke away from Spain in 1640, and under close alliance with England maintained its separate and national existence during the 18th century. The story of Portugal is one of jealousy and internecine war. It began in 1094. In 1387 Napoleon turned his thoughts towards it and threatened annihilation. On the 21st November of that year Don John after naming a council of regency went on board the English fleet with his whole family including Queen Maria I. The French revolution broke it to its foundation and then came that everything in put in readiness for the next harvesting or haymaking season. Get the repairs and place them on the machines at once. Take care of the plows. Get them under cover. Clean and grease the bright parts, so that, when wanted next spring, they will soon and save the time so many farmers lose in putting their implements into working order.—Wisconsin Agriculturalist.

Portugal in the year 1906 had the monopoly of the East Indian trade. About this time Charles the Second of England, seeking a wife, gladly accepted the suggestion that he should marry Catherine of Braganza, sister of the King of Portugal, because Portugal sheltered Prince Rupert, her cousin, who had fled from Cromwell, and because of the colonial possessions which the queen regent of Portugal offered as her daughter's dowry, would be very popular in England. The marriage was agreed upon, and the English occupied Tangiers, Bombay, and Galle, and obtained sure footing in the Indian empire.

It will be remembered that the Duke of Wellington first distinguished himself as a general in the field in the Peninsular wars. At that time Wellington, Major-General Beresford and Sir Charles Stuart saved the kingdom from the ravages of Napoleon.

From that time onward Portugal has been suffering from misrule and extravagance. Discontent broke out several times, but the people were held in check and a general decadence and listlessness took hold of the whole nation. On Feb. 1, 1908, King Carlos and the Crown Prince Luiz were assassinated in the street of Lisbon, and Manuel II succeeded to the throne. On the morning of Oct. 4 the pageantry of kingship is shattered and becomes the costume of a fugitive king is once more seeking refuge on the dock of a British cruiser.

A Wine Rooster.

A duck which faithfully stuck to business during the summer months and laid several dozens of large brown colored eggs complained that she wasn't appreciated. "See that hen over there?" said the duck, "she hasn't laid as many eggs as I have, nor as big, but she has books written about her and verses composed in her honor, while nobody is saying a word about me." "The trouble with you is," said a wine rooster, "that you don't tell the public what you have done. You lay an egg and waddle off without saying a word, but that sister of mine never lays one without letting everybody in the neighborhood know it. If you want to cut any ice in this community you must learn to advertise."

Spring Valley.

O. H. Fridman has sold his farm to a Nebraska man at $20 an acre.

Mrs. S. Keith is slowly recovering from a severe illness.

Miss F. Smith visited her sister Helen, who holds an important position in the Department of Public Works at Edmonton.

Spring Valley carried off first money at Lacombe fair for both spring and fall wheat.

The Carter family who formerly resided here, have arrived at their destination down where the big bananas grow and it's summer all the time.

Good farming pays. The man who cultivates his land thoroughly and scientifically, has his farm beautifully decorated with a multiplicity of grain stacks.

Care of Farm Implements.

One of the most serious leaks on the farm is the poor care taken of farm implements when not in use. As soon as the season is over, and under and other machinery, no longer needed this year should be carefully cleaned, the grease and dirt should be removed from the bearings, and those should be carefully oiled and kept in readiness to prevent rusting. Preparations should be made for replacing any broken or defective parts.

If time does not permit of all this, make a memorandum to be governed by on some stormy day and then see that everything is put in readiness for the next harvesting or haymaking season. Get the repairs and place them on the machines at once. Take care of the plows. Get them under cover. Clean and grease the bright parts, so that, when wanted next spring, they will soon and save the time so many farmers lose in putting their implements into working order.—Wisconsin Agriculturalist.

In Lieu of Lands.

According to the Toronto News, the Progressives, alias Conservatives, in Western Canada have adopted the provincial ownership of lands as one of the planks in the platform of the party. The wisdom of the policy has been raised in Saskatchewan and is being discussed in Alberta. The public generally regard the matter as a business proposition. The Conservatives attempt to appeal to local jealousy by making it appear that the prairie provinces are discriminated against by being deprived of control of the lands. But the average man is willing to take a chance on exact conditions and to look at the figure and find out whether Alberta has gained or lost on account of the policy of the Dominion in this respect.

Alberta and Saskatchewan have received in lieu of lands since the provinces were inaugurated an average of $40,000 a year. In addition to this the province of Saskatchewan has a revenue of about $250,000 a year from its school lands, and Alberta should have a revenue of about that much.

The province of Ontario secured from its lands, forests and mines for last year something over $4,000,000 for ten months and spent at least $669,000 to administer them, though the real expenditure was much greater than that. Ontario has a population of 2,000,000 and its revenue from its lands, mines and forests is 62 cents per head per year. Estimating the population of Alberta at 400,000 which seems pretty large and the land great from the Dominion in lieu of lands, which does not include the revenue from school lands, we are receiving $1.36 per head per year. When we have a population of 1,200,000 people the revenue including school lands will be in the neighborhood of two million dollars or a revenue of $1.56 per head.

And this is not all. When the province of Ontario secures revenue from its lands it is by encroaching upon the capital and disposing of the lands forever. There must be a limit sometimes. With Alberta and Saskatchewan the revenue in lieu of its lands will go on for all time.

There is still another side to the question. The province of Ontario complains because the tide of immigration sets in towards Western Canada and does not remain in the east and Ontario has endeavored to attract immigration. Alberta and Saskatchewan have had no trouble to secure immigrants in large numbers, and practically at no expense at all. The Dominion government is interested in settling the lands of Western Canada and has maintained its policy of settling Western Canada. Without ownership of these lands the Dominion doubtless would not be disposed to continue its very successful immigration policy.

It is very easy for rabid politicians to shout about bachelors and that sort of thing, but when the facts are presented it will be seen that the western provinces are much better off because they do not administer these lands.

The basket ball team journeyed to Ponoka last Thursday but met defeat at the hands of the team there, the score being 11-14.

On Sunday, Oct. 23rd, Anniversary services will be held in the Methodist church. Rev. H. E. Gordon B.A., of Strathcona will be the preacher for the day. On Tuesday night following the Ladies Aid will serve a Chicken supper in the church. On Tuesday the 25th not on Friday as announced in another column of the paper.

Exmayor J. Hamilton, and J. Hastings of Guelph, were visitors of B. J. Scott during the past week.

Rev. Theo. Powell will occupy his own pulpit next Sunday morning and evening. In the evening the sermon will be a special one to young people, the subject being "Who Shall Achieve Success?" Every young man in the town is specially invited.

E. O. Windsor, piano tuner is in town for a few days. Leave orders at Adelphi Hotel.

A disastrous fire of mysterious origin wiped out of existence T. E. Driscoll's hotel and Lusk's Hall, Castairs, on Sunday, causing a loss of $20,000 besides endangering the lives of seventeen guests who were staying at the hotel, and the family of Mr. Driscoll. The contents were destroyed, and the guests lost all their clothes, barely escaping with their lives. The most serious loss, so far as the guests were concerned, was the burning of three valises belonging to a Dominion government surveyor, and some valuable Peace River documents. The destroyed buildings were partially covered by insurance.

Payment of British Members.

The payment of members of the British House of Commons in the near future seems now to be assured. The Liberal party has long advocated it, and lately, the chief organs of the Opposition have supported the proposal.

The London Standard comes out pat in its support, influenced, it says, by the fact that the judgment of the court in the Osborne case will make it very hard for genuine workmen to find the means to enter Parliament. As union funds can no longer be used for the support of members of Parliament, no assessments be made on union members for political purposes, the only resource left is the election and support of Labor members, as of the Irish members, by voluntary subscription. Workmen might indeed be elected, but not supported, by the funds of one of the great political parties.

There is nothing practical, the Standard thinks, in such suggestions. It declares that "the solution lies in the payment of members of Parliament out of public funds, and within reasonable and restricted limits, the payment of their election expenses also."

The inclusion of the latter proposes a very thorough change, indeed, but the Standard which professes no love for "professional politicians" would stipulate that the legislative salary should be so small as to tempt the ambitious "carpet-bagger" and the self-seeking person in any class. Such people are difficult to eliminate altogether; but the idea now is that the member's stipend should be no larger than would compensate a superior artisan for abandoning his employment and enable him to discharge his public duties in comfort; while for the actual and necessary expenses of election, which might easily be reduced below their present scale, there is no good reason why the local authorities should not make themselves responsible, with proper precautions, such as could easily be devised, to prohibit merely frivolous and futile candidates. This at least would eliminate "at one fell swoop" the necessity for "campaign funds," in the collection and spending of which so many immoralities are committed.

The ultra-Conservative Morning Post is also inclined to favor payment of members. Indeed, word seems to have been sent out to the Unionist Press, which is falling into line. It is indeed generally recognized that such payment "is the only dignified and straightforward method of obtaining independent representation for the wage earning classes by persons freely chosen from their own body."

Western Canada Will Have a Good Harvest.

The total crop of the West this year will probably not show up so badly as was anticipated. This is largely due to the increased area brought under cultivation this year. It is a safe guess that there are few western papers that have overestimated the extent of this year's drought and there are also some that have not told all there was to say about the dry weather in their particular district. No matter what any papers may say, the fact remains that in southern Manitoba, a part of southern Saskatchewan, and southern Alberta, droughty conditions have prevailed and crops are light. Southern Alberta has perhaps been the hardest hit, not because it has been so much dryer than in other places as on account of the fact that many of the farmers in that section are new to the country. They have not been long there and are less able to stand a poor crop than the southern Manitoba farmers who are simply losing on one year's work. The older farmers can tide over with less difficulty than those who have been in the country only a year or so.

Western Canada is too big to be put out of business on account of a drought in certain sections of the country. This year will prove the truth of that statement and in the future the effects of local adverse conditions will be even less apparent. Business men and wholesalers are not this year expecting lessened business for the coming winter, which is a good indication of the trend of things. They are laying in stocks and preparing for the year's business just about the same as usual. Our immigration has been larger this year than ever before, and the increase is of a marked character from the United States in spite of the fact that certain agencies have been at work south of the line to stem the tide of American immigration to Canada. The United States government disclaim any disposition to put a check to this movement of American farmers, although quite naturally they envy Canada in being able to attract her best young citizens. We assume that the chief objectors to the movement of American settlers to Canada are the big land companies who have large holdings of wild lands for sale in Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, the Dakotas or the Southwest. They see their prospective buyers coming across and settling on Dominion lands, much to their own financial loss personally. Western Canadian conditions of an adverse character have been greatly magnified on the other side which has no doubt kept some from coming who otherwise would have moved across the line. This campaign will not keep Canada back. Those who are here now are our best advertisement and their letters of satisfaction with conditions here to their friends and relatives on the other side will do more to favorably advertise this country than any campaign of misrepresentation can do to disparage it.

It is surprising though how some of the most widely read and influential U. S. papers are eager to print news items relating to dry weather, prairie fires and early frosts in the Canadian West and refuse to publish any reports of good crops, profitable cattle shipments, or anything of that nature that would tend to give an impression that the prairie farmers are really doing well. We are not now referring to political news papers who take anything that will fill space and savor of news but to supposedly independent periodicals read almost wholly by farmers. Even worse than that are Canadian farmers who live in a drought stricken district writing to their letters that are published "in order to let the people know the true conditions," and giving out the impression that what is true of their locality is true of the whole West. Just recently we read a contribution of this nature from a supposedly prominent southern Manitoba farmer in a U. S. periodical that is read weekly by some 85,000 farmers. We thought the paper used poor judgment in selecting its source of information and that one of two reasons could be assigned as motives which prompted the writer. Either he deliberately intended to misrepresent the West or else he is most circumscribed in his knowledge of the country and doesn't know how big that territory is that lies north of the 49th parallel and east and west from the Red River to the Mountains. It is a strange country, and one which we have never yet seen nor heard of, that doesn't have an off year occasionally. And it is also a small country that is effected all over by the average drought of the western hemisphere. The Canadian West is neither of these. Western Canada will have a good harvest this year.

RECIPROCITY.

It will come as something of a surprise to the Canadian people if proposals are made by the Dominion Government at all in the sense of the Dominion Government speaking first in the negotiations which there is talk of reopening. It is safe to assume that, whatever proposals will be made on Canada's behalf will not be made until after the United States proposals have been submitted. It must be remembered that the initial overtures for reciprocity negotiations came from President Taft in March last. The final overture, too, must come from Washington.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has declared that there shall be no more pilgrimages to Washington. There were many such pilgrimages previous to 1896, and they were one and all fruitless of result. Ottawa, not Washington, is the proper place for any reciprocity negotiations to be held hereafter. It is the United States which is anxious for reciprocity now and not Canada.

Tariff barriers could not check the growth of business completely, and if danger to the Imperial connection lurked in closer trade relations with the United States, what would happen in the event of Congress doubling the trade between the two countries by reduction and removal of the United States duties? According to the view of the alarmists for the Imperial connection, it would thus be easy for Congress to draw Canada into annexation, but the history of the relations between the two countries thus far warrants unquestionably the conclusion that no such result would follow.

The United States policy of tariff hostility to Canada was entered upon more than half a century ago, with the idea in the minds of many of its initiators that Canada would be driven into union with the United States by such treatment. On the contrary that tariff hostility proved to be of incalculable advantage to this country in stimulating, as it did, Canadian self-reliance, the development of our own resources and the establishing of our trade channels. This country's development has reached a stage now which makes it independent of any action of the United States.

Juvenile Offenders.

Until recently it has been the habit of police courts generally to deal with child offenders as adults. Those found guilty of breaking the laws paid the penalty largely according to the feelings of the particular justice before whom the case came for a hearing. The idea of punishment for wrong-doing was kept before the Court and the culprit. In the event of it being decided that the evidence was insufficient, or of the presiding justice or judge being lenient, the child was allowed out on suspended sentence without further consideration of the case.

Under the present system of probation the home conditions of the culprit are investigated, and a report made to the judge deciding the case, in order that he may have before him an adequate idea of the circumstances which have contributed to the child becoming a delinquent or a wrong-doer, the idea being to correct the defects caused by bad example rather than to use vindictive punishment in dealing with these unfortunate children.

Under the old system of suspended sentence a child was often allowed or compelled to return to home conditions or evil surroundings, which had wrought his destruction. Under the present system of probation, the child offender is placed in the complete charge of a probation officer who volunteers to keep a friendly oversight of the child's home surroundings, its companionships and amusements.

The probation officer undertakes to act as guide and counsellor, to give friendly advice, and, when necessary, to see that punishment is administered either by deprivation of privileges or in some other way suitable to the offence.

It has been the satisfactory experience wherever probation has been used that in most cases the children are saved to good citizenship, and prevented from entering upon a life of crime, which would otherwise be their lot.

Every city and town in the province of Alberta is in need of a number of volunteer probation officers, who will undertake to act as "big brother" to some child who is heading for the place where he is bound to become a moral derelict and a confirmed criminal. The friendly offices of a probation officer can change nearly ninety-five per cent. of prospective criminals to prospective good citizens.

The Superintendent of Neglected Children at Edmonton would be glad to get in touch with individuals who will volunteer a little of their time for the purpose of directing the energies of the mischievous children in their district.

An Appalling Crime.

The blowing up of the Los Angeles Times' building with the loss of twenty lives and the attempt to blow up the house of General Otis, the proprietor, are crimes which are fortunately rarely paralleled in modern times. Though the Los Angeles Times employs non-union printers, it is not to be supposed for a moment that any union is back of these outrages. It may be the work of anarchists or of other enemies of organized society, but no typographical union, no matter how bitter its grievances might be, would countenance such atrocities. A few years ago, similar horrors were recorded in the County of Alameda district but the perpetrators of these were deluded miners, an altogether different class from the members of typographical unions. It may be that politics are responsible for the crimes, but this theory is well nigh unbelievable, even though the general public is aware that politicians will go to great lengths to attain their ends. Rewards totalling $18,000 have already been offered for the arrest and conviction of the guilty party or parties and perhaps the prospect of earning so much money may induce some of those who are aware of the circumstances leading up to the outrages, to make confession. It is to be hoped so for the whole world is appalled at the wholesale murder of innocent men and demands the punishment of the slayers.

Soothing the Farmers.

To interest western farmers in their side of the tariff question, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association proposes to take two or three trainloads of them east during the winter, to entertain them and to "show them over" their big plants. The manufacturers hope to arouse in the farmers' breasts for their (the manufacturers') plight and to enlist their support in the protectionists' campaign. From where we sit we can see that the farmers will have a gorgeous time. They will be wined and dined, filled with fizz and food mellowed by good fellowship, entertained by racy stories and played off for snokers to the limit. That they will fall for this stuff is the hope of the manufacturers, but if they do, they will sacrifice their own interests.

The manufacturers are not to be blamed for endeavoring to win the farmers over to their way of thinking for if they can do so, they will continue to fill their coffers at the farmers' expense. But, the farmers should, in turn, take the manufacturers to their farms and make them personally acquainted with the hard work attendant upon raising grain should take them to the elevators and make them acquainted with the prices they are forced to accept for their grain. The lessons would be invaluable to the manufacturers if they taught them that there are others in Canada, besides themselves, who are deserving of consideration when a tariff is being arranged.

Canadians wish to see the manufacturers prosper, but not at the expense of either the farmers or the working classes. The farmers have equal rights with the manufacturers and the latter are alarmed because they are beginning to recognize that the government is preparing to grant the farmers the tariff to which they are entitled. This may explain why the junket is being arranged for the western agriculturists.

I threw my money at the birds; and sages came with warning words and talked about the rainy day. "You ought to file your seeds away," the sages said, "for winter use; don't always hang your purse-strings loose. You may fall sick, or blind, or dumb, and when the high-priced saw-bones come, and druggists charge you for their pills, and nurses spring their little bills, you'll breathe a wish, in bitter tones, that you had salted down some bones." Their discourse was so wise and grave that I at once began to save; I carried bundles to my bank until exertion made me lank; I saved and saved until my reel would do to plug a stovepipe hole, and then (it broke the banker's heart) I blew it for a motor-car. It painted red and gold and green, and fairly thirsted for gasoline. It panted and snorted and smoked and tears, and wildly called for more repairs. I like the good old spendthrift way, to blow one's roubles day by day; I like to waste wealth as it comes in small and unobtrusive sums; that's better than to skimp and save, and pinch, economize and save for months together, like a dunce, and then blow in your wad at once.

His worship has previously intimated that he would gradually stiffen the sentences until opium joints in Winnipeg were wiped out. Woo How was greatly surprised at the severity of the sentence. The principal evidence in the case was given by Lee Hai, a Chinese detective on the city force.

You are not experimenting when you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a cold as that preparation has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. ## They Need Guardians.

Those of us who have thought for years that Red Deers need guardians, will find in the following item from the Red Deer Advocate, good grounds for the same.

"Last Saturday afternoon the clergy of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches met the Hospital Ladies Aid at the home of Mrs. Murphy concerning the hospital benefit dance arranged for Thursday evening. For their part, the ministers said, they felt it wrong to give a public dance in aid of such a benevolent institution on account of the possible moral outcome."

The ministers of Red Deer have our sympathy. It must be a heartbreaking task to keep the residents of that town in the straight and narrow path.

WOULD BUY THE DANNER FLOUR MILL.

Experienced Miller from Ontario is Impressed With Prospects of Lacombe.

Mr. Norris, of Alliston, Ont., a well known flour miller, is in town with a view of going into the milling business here. He is endeavoring to make a deal with the Danner Milling Co. for the purchase of their splendid mill. Since coming to Lacombe, Mr. Norris has gone into the flour situation pretty thoroughly, and is of the opinion that this is a good point at which to operate a mill. The importation of flour to Lacombe alone amounts to nearly one hundred carloads a year, and he has no doubt that he could capture a large share of the local business. If he is successful in getting the property, he will at once erect a large storage elevator for wheat, and arrange to run the mill all the year.

LACOMBE DISTRICT OATS BEAT THE WORLD.

With an Acre Yield of 152 1/2 Bushels, Lacombe Took First at Spokane.

Speaking of the great fair at Spokane, Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, had the following to say with reference to F. A. Switzer's record yield of oats:

"Perhaps the most striking exhibit of all was that of Abundance oats from the farm of F. A. Switzer of Lacombe. These oats were grown on a field of 10 acres and yielded 152 bushels and 15 pounds to the acre. The field has been carefully checked and the yield accurately estimated. These oats, which weigh 45 pounds to the bushel, won first prize in the Lacombe district for the best standing field of grain this summer. They were grown with a rainfall for the 13 months preceding the harvest of 12.17 inches, this being the precipitation in the Lacombe district from August 1909 to July 1910. This yield beat anything on the grounds, and was an easy winner of first place."

Alberta carried off all the first prizes, including the great trophy for best State exhibit.

Mr. McCall at the Pekin.

Mr. Charles Riley McCall, just named "America's greatest versatile performer," will visit Lacombe on Monday, Oct. 17, at the Pekin Theatre.

The entertainment promises to be an exceptionally good one, including readings from James Whitcomb Riley, violin selections from the classics as well as old and popular tunes, also clever imitations in which the violin is made to speak almost as plainly as the human tongue.

Mr. McCall's wonderful power to please is best expressed by repeating a letter written to him by the Rev. Dr. Halford, of Harlow, Montana:

"Wherever you go, your entertainment—Wrinkle the atonic, tickle the morose, straighten the crank, kink the moribund, enliven the languid, cheer the thoughtful, teach the wag, chase depression, cheat time and rob the graveyard."

The motion pictures, specially procured for the occasion, assure one of having over two hours bright and elevating amusement. The price of admission will be 50c and 25c, for adults and children respectively.

Sept. 30th was Lord Roberts' seventy-eighth birthday.

ALBERTA BEAT ALL CANADA AT TORONTO

Our Display of Agricultural Products Was Awarded Gold Medal.

Alberta has been awarded the gold medal for the best agricultural display at the Toronto exhibition, the leading exposition in Canada. There was no question as to the award. Alberta won on their merit. That the exhibit from this province far outclassed all others at this notable fair was the unanimous verdict of the eastern press. To win such an honor in competition with the fertile provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia is indeed an achievement, and the accomplishment of which Alberta may thank Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of Agriculture, and his capable assistants, also the skilful farmers from whose fields the products came. The quality of the products displayed and the artistic manner of their arrangement formed a combination which easily placed Alberta ahead of all competitors.

The display of grains were perhaps the most spectacular feature of the exhibit and was thoroughly represented. There was winter wheat from the field of Arthur Perry, of Cardston. This field of Arthur Perry, of Cardston. This field threshed 60 bushels and 20 pounds per acre from 204 acres and the wheat weighed 66 pounds per bushel.

From Pawson Bros., of Coalville came an exhibit of spring wheat from a field of 130 acres, which averaged 88 1/2 bushels of wheat per acre, the grain weighing 65 pounds per bushel.

Rackham & Smith, of Lloydminster furnished barley from a field of 10 acres which averaged 63 bushels to the acre the weight of the barley being 54 pounds per bushel.

J. C. Hill & Son, of Lloydminster, supplied Gorton's Regent oat Abundance oats from a field of 27 acres which yielded 97 bushels per acre of oats weighing 16 pounds per bushel.

Robert McKay, of Blackfalds, grew the Banner oats on a field of 21 acres which returned 85 bushels per acre of oats weighing 44 pounds per bushel. The flax came from the farm of W. E. Tees, of Tees, and was grown on a field of seven acres, the yield being 10 bushels per acre and the weight 57 1/2 pounds per bushel.

These grains were assembled in Calgary and were made up of exhibits from the provincial seed fairs.

With P. A. Switzer, Lacombe, taking first prize at the Seattle fair for the largest yield of grain per acre, and W. E. Tees, of Lacombe and Robert McKay, of Blackfalds taking first prizes for flax and oats at the Toronto exhibition, it should be an easy matter for us to "boost" for our district. We have the land, we have the men, it will not be long before this district receives the distinction it deserves—The greatest agricultural district in the greatest agricultural Province of Canada.

In addition to Lacombe's wins at Seattle and Toronto, W. E. Tees, of this place, drew the largest check for prizes at the Edmonton exhibition—over $600. Verily Lacombe produces the goods.

The Vickers-Murphy Lumber & Coal Co. is installing scales in front of their premises for the weighing of coal, as they expect to do a considerable business in that line.

Harold Nelson.

From classic to modern drama is a long step and to most it would be difficult to accomplish, but not so to that talented Canadian actor and dramatist, Mr. Harold Nelson. For years Mr. Nelson produced nothing but plays of the classic variety with great success. Now, however, Mr. Nelson comes forth in a distinctly new line of drama, namely, only those which deal with Canadian life and characters. He has met with equal if not greater success in these plays as he did with the others, in fact, the general opinion is that he appears to better advantage in the modern drama and he has won instant favor wherever he has played. Mr. Nelson has just finished long engagements in the Coast Cities, where he has been a great favorite and won many laurels for his splendid performances. The lure of the scenes of earlier triumphs proved too strong for him, however, and the present tour resulted in consequences. Night after night Mr. Nelson has proved to large and appreciative audiences that he is equally at home in the modern drama and his play, "Pierro of the Plains," or "Sergeant James," has won him many new friends as well as delighting his many old friends who remember his past performances in the classical drama.

Mr. Nelson and his incomparable company will be seen here at the Comet theatre on Thursday night of this week.

Twelfth Night.

Shakespeare was manifestly in a holiday mood when he penned this delightfully irresponsible comedy of improbabilities. No great problem clouded the flow of his fancy—so call to right the wrongs of humanity choked the serene utterance of his joyous muse. Even Viola is less strenuous than most of our poet's heroines, and throws herself with a gay spirit into the masquerading adventures through which the paces to comedy's inevitable goal—the hymeneal altar. No less an authority than Mr. Halliwell Phillips describes Twelfth Night as "The perfection of English comedy and the most fascinating drama in the language." Wm. Yale and Violet Eddy, with a large and capable company of experienced players, will present this ideal comedy at the opera house here on the evening of Tuesday, 18th inst., in aid of the Hospital.

The Dancing Club.

A meeting of all interested in the formation of a Quadrille Club will be held in the Merchants Bank hall (3rd story) Thursday night at 8 o'clock. The Shillito opera house will be secured for the fortnightly assemblies and an orchestra engaged. A full meeting is requested.

Lacombe at Ponoka.

P. A. Switzer's Clydes won all the prizes at the Ponoka Fair last week. He won First for brood mare in foal; first and second for dry mare; and first for team. In Hereford cattle P. M. Ballantine of Lacombe, carried off every prize.

Hospital Donations.

Mrs. Wm. Wieso $1.00; H. L. Griffith $1.00. Many thanks to the ladies who sent in delicacies during past week.—Mrs. Burrie.

Alberta at Spokane.

Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, returned on Friday from the International Dry Farming congress, held at Spokane, Wash., on October 8, 4, 5 and 6. At this congress Alberta occupied the centre of the limelight not only in the exhibits of grain but in the exhibits of live stock. The province won the $250 silver cup for the best exhibit on the grounds. There were over one thousand delegates from Alberta, which was the largest representation from any single state or province with the exception of the State of Montana. A. G. Harrison and David Stewart of Edmonton, were in attendance. The congress was held in the Spokane armory. It is predicted that the congress will meet in Lethbridge, Alberta, in 1912. There were delegates present from Brazil, Chile, Russia, France and Austria.

Entry.

Came to my place on October 1st, one red and white bull, 3 years old, no brand visible, owner can have same by paying expenses if removed at once. R. F. 20-29-25. E. Walter Simpson.

Blackfalds News.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Green, who has been ill in Red Deer Hospital is getting strong again. He is now able to walk about a little.

The country east of town is filled with the white tents of the C.N.R. road graders. The work is being pressed forward very rapidly. Tents are now to be seen on both sides of the Blindman.

Mr. Fred Miller is smiling again. It is a girl. Both mother and daughter are now doing very well.

On Wednesday evening last the organ was in attendance at the Public Hall. It was indeed an interesting event that met the eye of a casual observer as no such costumes had ever been seen about here before. Many of those present failed to suit the peculiar tastes of Judge Ragan and were fined accordingly. Games were enjoyed by those who were there, and after a short programme of readings, songs, and music, a light repeat of cake and coffee sent home happy the large number who attended.

On Sunday evening last, Mr. Bakin, the new Presbyterian minister, preached his first sermon to a large audience. He recited "Childhood's Dream" in a manner that held his listeners fast to the end. We are glad to welcome Mr. Bakin to his new work and we hope for a prosperous pastorate.

On Friday evening, 14th inst., the Methodist Ladies' Aid are providing their annual chicken supper and concert. Chicken is the doer as being collected. The ladies are busy cooking the good things and Mr. Riley McCall is coming to provide the entertainment of readings, impersonations, violin selections, etc. This is one of the great events of Blackfalds and a large crowd is looked for. Supper in Shular's store 6 to 8, concert in Public Hall.

Alix News.

At a recent meeting of the Alix Board of Trade, the secretary was instructed to communicate with the R. R. Commissioners regarding the very dangerous crossing on the G. T. P. grade, east of the village, and also to protest against the C. N. R. passing up, in the matter of sidings and depot.

Frank J. Taylor of Calgary, has sold his farm on Buffalo Lake to Mr. Wm. Lennox. This farm is known as Taylor's Point, and is one of the most beautiful homes in Alberta. We understand the price was $10,000. The deal was arranged by McDonald & Crankshaw.

Miss Reynolds, of Pleasant Valley, is visiting in Alix with Miss Jean Green.

The Alix and Red Deer ball teams played the final game of the season on Friday last, Red Deer winning by a score of 6-5. However, as it was not a Red Deer team that beat us, we don't feel so badly over it. They had 3 or 4 professional players from the "Twilight" league, and even at that they have no license to win, "this ump," too, was a R. D. man, and very unfair.

The Alix Fall Fair was a success. The weather was ideal and the crowd was immense. The exhibits were particularly good in all lines except grain. That was not as good as in former years, in quality, but all other farm products were greatly admired.

Ponoka Herald. Quite a few of our townpeople attended the Lacombe fair on Friday, which was in every respect a pronounced success. No doubt the drawing card for several was the basket ball game between Lacombe and Ponoka, which ended in a draw of two goals each after a keenly contested game. Our local team has sustained heavy losses in that several of the leading players have left school, but notwithstanding the girls put up a splendid fight and have to be congratulated on the display given. The team was: Elsie Gray (captain), Heather Abbott, Bella Gray, Mary Cox, Nellie Gordon, Grace McKelvey and Constance Mullins. The team was under the charge of Mrs. Thos. McKelvey, who had a busy time chaperoning the girls. For the hospitable way in which they were entertained by the Lacombe players is special thanks due.

Mary, clerked in Whimble's store, and her heart was sick and sore, for poor Mary wasn't strong and the hours were heavily long, and her pay was pretty slim, and the boss was sour and grim. Mary's nerves were worn to shreds, selling yards and pins and threads. And one day a naughty dame to this salesgirl's counter came, wanting stuff to make a gown; and she made the girl hand down fifty tons; or so of cloth; and she grew exceedingly wroth 'cause the prices were too high; and she glared with fiery eye at the weary girl and said: "Husht! try to earn your bread! Bring me half a carload more of the dress goods in your store! On the highest shelves I see fabrics that look good to me!" Then poor Mary, worn and weak, soaked that woman on the cheek; slugged her three times on the nose with a bolt of linen clothes; hit her roundly with a chair, pushed her down the cellar stairs. In the court the case was tried, and poor Mary, weary-eyed, told her simple tale with tears, thinking she would get ten years. But the jurors, honest men, did not send her to the pen. "She's not guilty!" they all cried and she's now the foreman's bride.—Walt. Mason.

China is declared to be on the verge of another upheaval similar to the Boxer uprising, and the lives of foreigners are in jeopardy. Advice received recently from government officials in China express the belief that an outbreak at any time would not surprise them. The state department has instructed officials to maintain a close watch on the internal conditions. All through the summer months there have been mutterings of discontent in some of the Chinese provinces, due to the rice famine, dynastic difficulties and dissatisfaction over acts of the Pekin government as to foreign investments in China. Good harvests mitigated to some extent the gravity of the situation, but there is still a general feeling of unrest, according to personal letters received here from men on duty in that quarter. The army and navy are prepared for any emergency, but their readiness is solely a precautionary measure, it is said, and should not be taken as an indication of immediate danger. Authentic advices from those charged with keeping in touch with conditions indicate that the only thing looking to parallel today's situation with that preceding the Boxer troubles, which drew into China the American forces as well as those of other nations, is the matter of organization, and that it only needs a leader to effect that.

Alberta boasts a larger cultivable area than any other province. It is said to have 96,000,000 acres of arable land, whereas Saskatchewan has 88,000,000, Manitoba 25,000,000 and Ontario 26,000,000. The most westerly of the prairie provinces has thus a very hopeful outlook. What helps it is the fact that it has a mild south and a promising north.

Lame back is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. A few applications of Chamberlain's Liniment will give relief. For sale by all Dealers.

The big doings are on in Spokane this week. From all the dry farming parts of America the men will have something real practical to talk about for the country has certainly been dry. The Dry Farming Congress should have a decidedly practical turn this year.

Biliousness is due to a disordered condition of the stomach. Chamberlain's Tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse it, strengthen it, tone and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and to banish biliousness positively and effectually. For sale by all Dealers.

The expansion of the telephone system of Alberta is one of the remarkable evidences partly of the use that is being put to the telephone on the one hand and partly of the great growth of the province on the other hand. The new book for the telephone company shows that there are in the neighborhood of 10,000 telephones. Calgary leads with 3,179 telephones. Edmonton has 2,264.

The American Purty Federation of Lacrosse, Wisconsin, are sending out during the month of October a touring party of twenty of the most prominent speakers that can possibly be secured for the purpose of carrying on a campaign in the interests of Good Citizenship and better civic conditions, while attention is also given to modern social reform. The Federation conducted meetings in Calgary and Lethbridge last week and will continue their tour along the Pacific coast thence south to New Orleans returning to Chicago by way of the Mississippi River cities.

Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safe and sure. For sale by all Dealers.

Judging by the advance notices now being sent out by the department at Ottawa, showing the scope of the inquiry to be made in connection with the taking of the census of Canada in the month of June next year, people will have to retreat to some lonely vale for a period of six months or more in order to have the mind perfectly clear and ready for the volleys of cross questions that will undoubtedly be fired at them by the enumerators. It is a safe bet that he who answers them all correctly, and to the extent required by the department, will have to dust the old family Bible on the mantelpiece several times in order to make no mistakes in regard to the genealogy of his clan.

The best plaster, A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound over the affected parts is superior to a plaster and costs only one tenth as much. For sale by all Dealers.

As the partial returns of the United States census are made public, the impression grows that the increase in population during the last decade will be found to be greater than was anticipated. New York, with its population of 4,766,888 this year, as compared with 3,497,202 in 1900, is by no means the only city that has up-set the calculations of experts. In 1900 the population of the continental United States was over 75,000,000; last year it was expected that the present census would reveal about 85,000,000 inhabitants. Now the Director of the Census prophesies returns of over 90,000,000 souls. With the overseas possessions that would mean a total of about 100,000,000 citizens for the United States.

School Children's Teeth.

In Philadelphia last Monday, the free dental clinic for school children, whose parents cannot afford to employ a private dentist, was opened in the city hall. The council provided $3,000 for the equipment of two rooms—one for operations and one for extractions. A volunteer force of more than 100 dentists has been organized to make a systematic examination of the teeth of school children.

Blanks have been prepared giving a diagram of the teeth, so that the dentist can designate upon the chart exactly what treatment is necessary. These charts are to be taken home by the children to their parents, together with a note advising that immediate attention be paid to the matter. If the parent signifies an inability to consult a dentist, the child is referred to the city hall for treatment. The establishment of the dental clinic followed a plea made to the Philadelphia councils several months ago by Director of Public Health and Charities Neph. He informed the council of the splendid results secured by the systematic examination of the eyes of school children and the supply of glasses to those unable to pay for them, and asked that the dental clinic be established.

In Hamilton, Ont., the city has arranged to have the teeth of school children inspected and is providing free treatment to those whose parents are unable to employ a dentist. In Toronto the newspapers are urging that similar action be taken. In Calgary the suggestion has been made to the city and to the school board that provision be made for the inspection and care of school children's teeth, but it has been practically ignored. Medical men will emphasize the importance of care of teeth in relation to the health of the children and Calgary should be sufficiently progressive to take their advice.

What Will Canada Do?

C. W. Rowley, a Calgary banker, on his return from a holiday to the money centre of the United States, says that the people there fear that the political unrest will result in capital leaving the United States and going to Canada. This, it was said, was precisely what was the outcome of the Lloyd George tariff bill.

As a matter of fact the Lloyd George tariff bill did not have the result of driving capital from England as was predicted and will not have such an effect.

Of course we need capital and need it badly, and it is to be hoped that capitalists will be directed to this country. But it must not be forgotten that the capitalists who are being driven out of the United States or who may be driven out, are leaving or will leave because it is getting somewhat uncomfortable across the line. It is becoming uncomfortable there because the people are making an effort to control capitalists who have been running wild for the last few years and who have been interfering with the legitimate rights of the people.

And that means that Canada must take steps to guard the rights of the people before they are in the hands of the capitalists who selfishly ride rough-shod over every person. The daily reports of mergers of enormous interests are not so very good after all. Canada should profit by the example of the United States and make the strictest effort to prevent the corporate evils which are threatening this country.—Albertan.

Ponoka News.

Miss Stella B. Lowry, who was so long in our midst, and more recently of Lacombe, has moved to Selma, California. She was called to Selma on account of her father's illness and death, and has decided to make her home there. Many in town and district will miss her cheerful presence, and wish her prosperity in her southern home.

Last week the town had a visit from Joseph Marshall, of Rimby. There is no more distinguished personage in that fair valley than Breezy Joe and no matter when he gives the editor an interview, he always says something new to tell. Of course it is Rimby, first and all the time, and it does the heart good to hear him expatiate on his theme. How the people are advancing (leaping) to prosperity. This year the crops are about the best raised, new residences and out buildings are being built, and families are multiplying. About 2000 acres have been broken, and last but not least, the road grievance is a thing of the past. Fortunately indeed are the people who live in such a delightful haven.

Dry Farming Convention.

In Spokane there has opened a convention which is of more interest to Alberta than is even yet generally recognized.

It is but a few years since dry farming began to be seriously considered but already its results have revealed a sphere of usefulness second only, and perhaps not even that, to irrigation. In a number of states in the union areas which were considered absolutely hopeless for agriculture have been made to blossom and bear fruit in plenty by means of the principles which dry farming has taught.

In Alberta and Saskatchewan during the present year, especially in the southern portions, there has been admittedly a considerable crop shortage. The yield might have been much more widely employed. This is now acknowledged and it is pleasing to note that the farmers in this country are taking a vivid and general interest in the proceedings of the congress now in session.

The present season has taught some of us that however fertile a country might be one cannot depend on a successful crop without employing thorough methods. Should this year's experience lead to a general recognition of that fact and a corresponding improvement in farming methods the shortage will not have been incurred in vain, and in affecting such an improvement in conditions, the dry farming congress will play an important part.

Cairns of Lamerton, Alberta, or to James W. Johnston of Lacombe, Alberta, the executors of the said estate, on or before the 30th day of November A.D. 1910, and after the said date the said executors will then be at liberty to distribute the assets belonging to the said estate, or any part thereof, among the parties appearing entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which the said executors then shall have had notice and they will not consider themselves liable for the said assets or any part thereof which may be so distributed, to any person or persons of whose claim or claims they shall not have had notice at the period of the said distribution.

If the movement on the part of the lumber manufacturers of British Columbia to establish a line of some five hundred retail lumber yards will have the effect of reducing prices, the prairie farmers will welcome them with open arms. The lumbermen of B. C. claim that the prairie dealers unduly enhance the price to the consumer, thereby reducing the demand and affecting the output and sales of their mills. If the establishment of these lumber yards will save that $2.00 per thousand reduction that was agreed upon by the recent lumbermen's convention in Vancouver, the welcome of the new yards will be increasingly warm.

Single and Easy

Two continental travellers, while in a train, got into an argument over the action of the vacuum brake.

"It's the lubrication," declared the first traveller.

"Wrong," retorted the second.

"It's the output of the exhaust," he retorted.

So they wrangled for an hour.

Then, when the train arrived at the station, they agreed to submit the matter to an expert in the district.

The gentleman, leaning comfortably from the door of his engine, listened with an attentive frown to the two travellers' statement of their argument. Then he smiled, shook his head, and said:

"Well, gentlemen, you both are wrong about the action of the vacuum brake. It's very simple and easy to understand. When you want to stop the train, you just turn this tap, and then you all the pipe with vacuum."

"But there is one thing in particular that I like George for," he always tells me of my fellow-travellers the least intelligent. That was the argument I caused him to make.

"Nonsense! Call me the name of the fault he has found in you."

"Oh, he hasn't found any yet. When I ask him to name them he always says, 'I'm finished.'"

Fred Stevens and G. A. Swain, the two gentlemen who left here last spring on a trip through the far north and west country, returned last Wednesday after an eventful trip. Accompanied by other parties they left by pack train on May 6th, proceeded through the Yellowhead Pass, thence down the Fraser River about 100 miles. They, along with some of their party, attempted to scale Mt. Robson, but such a thing was found to be very difficult owing to the unfavorable weather, though they climbed several other high elevations, some of which rose to a height of 11,000 feet. After leaving that country they proceeded down the Smokey river and discovered an old Pass which leads into B. C. and probably was used in former years by the Hudson Bay Co. or the Northwest Company. Edson was then reached via the Athabasca river and from that point they took their departure for home. Mr. Stevens says that almost the entire north country over which they travelled abounds in beaver, bear, caribou, in fact all large game, and fish in abundance. They are both hale and hearty and much wiser for the trip.

Mission Work in West.
Toronto, Oct. 9.—The Methodist churches in the west are to receive more extensive knowledge of the missionary work of the Methodist church, if the plans adopted by the various secretaries are carried out.

Rev. C. E. Manning has returned from Winnipeg, where the plans were decided upon. The idea is that a three weeks' campaign will be held in each of the three western provinces. On the first Sunday the pastors will address their congregations on missions, and the second Sunday there is to be a general exchange of pulpits. The third Sunday the laymen will occupy the pulpits. It further provides for a thorough canvass by the men of the churches for missionary contributions.

Eight ministers from the east will take part. They are: Rev. James Allen, general secretary of home missions in Canada; Rev. T. E. E. Shore, general secretary of foreign missions; Rev. C. F. Manning, assistant to Rev. Dr. Shore; Rev. James Endicott and Rev. A. O. Hoffman, returned missionaries from China, and Rev. B. C. Armstrong from Japan. Rev. Dr. Chown will assist in Manitoba.

From Winnipeg, on October 16, the campaign will travel westward, visiting all the chief towns and cities to the coast.

Parole and Politics.

The Calgary Herald makes the most serious charge that can be made against a government when it suggests that a prisoner was recently released from Edmonton penitentiary on ticket-of-leave because of political influence, and with the election in Glenhead directly in view. It would be an easy matter to trump up such a charge wherever the parole system is in vogue. But fortunately this is the first case that we are aware of where it has ever been done. The Herald presents no evidence to show that there was anything exceptional about the proceeding. Other young men, after having committed serious offences, and shown by their conduct in prison that if liberated they are not likely to get into trouble again, have been given another chance. In most instances the system works out well. If there is anything exceptional about this particular release, if the prisoner does not give promise of showing himself worthy of his liberty, then there is reason to be suspicious. But the Herald gives us no information on these points and till it secured this, it had no right to try to excite public suspicion in the way it has. It is unfair to those charged with the administration of justice and particularly unfair to the young man, whose chances of leading a decent life are seriously impaired by the promiscuity to which he is again subjected.

"Twelfth Night" Last Night.

Edmonton Bulletin: A splendid audience took advantage of the visit of Billy Yule, Violet Eddy and their supporting company at the Empire Theatre last night, when Shakespeare's ideal comedy "Twelfth Night" was presented. Mr. Yule is always a favorite with Edmonton audiences, and played Sir Toby Belch to perfection. Miss Eddy played Viola with remarkable grace and sweetness, while the part of Malvolio is well taken care of by Mr. Edward. Miss Young makes a very charming countess, and Miss McHugh took the part of Maria with much distinction. Mr. Harman as Sir Andrew and Mr. Warham as the clown were very clever. Mr. McAllister as Orsino ably sustained his part, and other members of the cast gave good support, making a well balanced company. The company carry a fine lot of scenery which adds very much to the play. "Twelfth Night" will be put on in Lacombe in aid of the hospital on Tuesday evening, Oct. 18th.

Get Back to the Farms.

"Alberta is a fine province for mixed farming. It is more like Ontario from a farming standpoint than any province I have seen in the west so far. But more attention will have to be paid to mixed farming." This comment was made by E. Kidd, M. P. for Carleton constituency, Ontario, a day or two ago. He is touring the west, after the manner of many a member of the federal parliament during the past few years, with a view to finding out at first hand just what the western portion of Canada is like, its requirements and possibilities. This is Mr. Kidd's first trip through the west. He is a dairyman and has extensive dairies in Carleton township and is interested in the western provinces from a dairy standpoint. The possibilities to dairymen here are great he said. Hundreds and thousands of pounds of cheese and butter could be produced here annually, if the farmers turned their attention to that branch of farming. Now the country is not producing enough cheese for home consumption, and cheese that is selling in Ontario for 16 cents a pound brings 20 cents out here because of the freight rates. "Why, I can send cheese over to the old country cheaper than I can send it out here," Mr. Kidd said.

"There are a lot of fine cities in the west, but the men will have to get back to the farms, or they will not keep up with the progress of the cities, and the result will be bad," he said. "More mixed farming should be taken up. The farmers now are raising wheat and cattle only, and the farms are not being well cultivated, and if things go on as they are now, will soon become dirty, that is, weeds will soon begin to grow in abundance."

Mrs. W. Craman left on Friday last to visit friends at Roland, Man.

Dr. Donovan, of Stettler, was a business caller in town on Monday.
